ne the Sort That Tackles Fancy of Average Baseball Crowd; Polo Grounds Jammed

(By The Associated Press)
New York, Oct. 7. — The Giants awoke from their two days of lethargy and sprang the greenest and the Polo grounds with such a use of hits that the Yankees were unprepared under a score of 13 to 5, in the third game of the world series. The National leaguers had gone runless for 20 innings up to the third of this afternoon's struggle, in the outbreak of hitting started by McGraw's men, after starting in American league opponents to a run lead, promptly cancelled this afternoon, driving Bob Shawkey, who started for Miller Huggins' team, the mound in the third inning, as after the score had run along a tie for three more innings, they broke out with an orgy of hitting, and second string Yankee pitchers the traditional "lucky seventh" was put over eight runs in this upper and putting up a total of 13 and 20 hits in their eight inning the bat.

Despite its one-sidedness, the game is the sort that tickles the fancy of average baseball crowd, and to the throng, despite the partisan rappings of a goodly portion of it, no exception. It was full of thrills, hint catches, daring base running, and on the Giants' side, long-distance hitting.

The crowd, with perfect baseball after to bring it out, was a record for this series. More than 300 fans jammed the stands and achers.

With the McGraw clan riding high over their opponents, the national league partisans unnumbered vocal chords, their cow bells and tiles, heretofore subdued, and played the game as hard from their seats their favorites did on the diamond. The Yankee supporters were dumb as the third inning.

employers have to take out the tax at the source.

That a tidy little sum will be realized is evident from the heavy receipts of the first day's game. Under the national commission rules, the players divide 40 per cent of the receipts of the first five games, which means something like $200,000 will be split among the men on the two teams.

Incidentally, "Babe" Ruth, besides breaking his own home run record this season, made another "home run" and got married since he fled his last income tax return, and he will thereby save $100 on this year's tax.

"Matty" Hears the Good News.
Sarunas Lake, Oct. 7. — Christy Mathewson was elated over the Giants' victory today. The former baseball star, who assisted his former team mates several times in winning the National league championship and who is now here making a fight against tuberculosis, said that just before today's game he sent the following telegram to Manager McGraw:

"Tell the boys to get their eye on the ball and their feet on the home plate."

Mathewson said that the sensational manner in which the National league players came from behind a four-run lead would put pop into them and start them hitting. He anticipated a hard fight between the teams, declaring that they are evenly matched and a one-sided series is unlikely.

"THE RAINBOW TRAIL" HERE WITH MR. FARNUM

For today, the famous star, William Farnum, will be seen at the Strand in what is regarded as among his greatest photographs, "The Rainbow Trail," a dramatization of the stirring Western novel written by Zane Grey, prince of Western actionists.

"The Rainbow Trail" is a typical Farnum picture, satisfying alike to the most refined taste and to the hunger for exciting episodes. The story is complete in itself, but at the same time is a sequel to "Kidders of the Purple Sage," another Farnum-Grey triumph.

The opening scenes and Farnum with the girl he loves seated up in a lost canyon. The story shows how they are rescued by an Indian guide who perceives them from a lofty peak towering over the canyon.

THE MORRIS FAIR CLOSES

QUEER LADY BEATS BUSTER BOY IN THE CLOSELY CONTESTED FAST RACE

Exhibits of Farm Bureau, Home Economics and Junior Project Work Though Meritorious and Instructive, Not as Attractive as the Kewpie Sellers' Tents.

One of the most successful fairs in the history of the Morris Fair association closed with the exhibit yesterday. The attendance of the day was gratifyingly large and the day's entertainment one of the best of the week.

The grand parade of prize winning horses, cattle and floral floats, etc., attracted much attention and was meritorious, though it is doubtful if it maintained the standard of former years. There is coming to be more of the professional exhibitor in evidence and less of the spirited rivalry among neighbors, so noticeable formerly. The fast race was a close contest throughout the four heats. The horses were evenly matched and Buster Boy, perhaps the local favorite, lost, quite possibly because having been driven the previous day he lacked a bit of his usual fighting spirit.

One noticeable fact stood out prominently, evidencing that the amusement features at even this fair, which preserves quite possibly more than any other vicinity the original idea of county fairs, are attracting more and more attention while the educational ones are ignored. Where one individual might be seen within the Farm Bureau tent where ideas and suggestions many were to be had for the visit or in the Junior project tent where a large and fine exhibit was displayed, there were to be found scores about the tents of the Kewpie dispensers or the side-shows and the midway was thronged with people wandering up and down, while the exhibits mentioned were all well-nigh neglected.

Credit is due to the Dairywomen's league. At their tent in addition to dispensing wholesome milk at a modest price, they provided chairs and a rest room for the tired visitors. One of the noticeable features within the Floral hall was the choice display of canned fruits, vegetables, meats, soups, etc., made by the Home Economics clubs. It was one of the finest and most meritorious displays on the grounds.

The ladies' driving contest in which there were five entrants aroused no little interest. The first prize, very justly was awarded to Miss Susan Bard of Laurens the second to Miss Berzival of Mt. Upton and the third to Miss Sergeant of this city.

The E-J band which provided music throughout the week, and all enjoyed its music, and also the songs by Starter La Hiff. The special attractions maintained the excellency of previous days and withal the day was one of much enjoyment for visitors.

The result of the races follow:
2:15 Pace and 2:15 Trot,
Queer Lady, (White) 2 1 1 1
Buster Boy, (Gray) 1 2 2 3
Betty R., (Price) 3 3 3 2

This class of instruments is usually sold by high-class dealers, who take pride in selling goods that will add to rather than detract from their reputation.

Cheap advertised bargain pianos are often times dear at any price, and in some cases the so-called bargains are not in evidence at all, but serve to attract attention.

BUILDING PERMITS.

It has come to be a quite general idea that the charter of the city of Oneonta, which in several particulars needs amending, particularly needs it when the matter of building permits is considered. At this time the authority of the city appears mainly to be limited to the material and location of buildings within the fire limit.
Outside of these limits, provided of course, a building does not by the nature of its occupation prove a public nuisance, the owner of the lot can proceed pretty much as he pleases.

It is now a quite general belief that the power of the city as regards building within the fire limits should be extended by the city corporation, and that the council, with the cooperation of the fire chief, should have a final word to say before any building should anywhere be erected in the city. This does not, of course, mean that the city should have absolute authority as to materials, an authority which might under some circumstances be misused, but rather that it should have some oversight as to methods of construction, safety from fire and the like as would work for the protection of everybody in a municipality where with population becoming more and more congested, there is increased danger to surrounding properties. No man, it is very properly said, lives to himself alone, and so long as he lives where he touches elbows with his neighbors, he should not regard himself alone, but with due regard to everybody in his neighborhood.

It is not the fire risk alone, however, it is claimed, that the city should have control of. Another thing is the location of houses on the lots themselves, as regards the street lines, so that no dwelling or porch should project in front of others in such way as to interfere with the traffic. Regarding such location, outside the present fire limits, the city does not appear to have any authority. The only power, therefore, which exists is such as is derived from the common law, under which it has frequently been held that a porch line established by common usage on a street is binding on the part of all owners.
However, this is a question which depends largely on the facts in each individual instance, and if the builder were to obtain the cases would probably need to go to the court for determination.

From these considerations and several others which will doubtless occur to the reader, there is belief that the charter in this as in several other features should be amended. In fact the charter, though at the time adopted one of the best in the state for a third class city, has been found in use lacking in certain features. Some of them may be taken up at the next session of the legislature. If they are, it is with reason suggested that with them should be included a section giving wider authority to the city in the matter of construction, not merely in the congested limits, but everywhere in Oneonta.

SUPERINTENDENTS TO MEET

Representative of State Department to Examine Methods of Making Educational Measurements.
J. C. Morrison, a representative of the State Department of Education, will be in the city Monday attending a meeting of the Tri-County District Superintendents' association which will convene at the Normal school at 11 o'clock. Members of the association from Otsego, Delaware and Schoharie are probably a few of the superintendents from other nearby counties will be present.

Mr. Morrison is a specialist in educational measurements and the purpose of his visit is to demonstrate the latest methods of conducting the measurements and grading pupils on their scholastic work. Following a talk on the subject, Mr. Morrison plans in the presence of the superintendents to conduct tests in one or two of the grades of the Normal training department. Subsequently the superintendents will meet and mark the pupils according to the new standardized method. The new system is being employed throughout the state in grading pupils; and Mr. Morrison has been engaged recently in giving similar demonstrations before a group of rural superintendents.

ciety's fair and dinner at Laurens on

Orange L. VanHorne Also Resigns.

New York, Oct. 7.—Following the withdrawal of Harold L. Hart and sistant federal director for New York, today resigned. He will return to his law practice at Cooperstown.

A Marriage Annulled.

The marriage of Mrs. Edna McAvoy of Walton to her husband, John former has been granted permission to resume her maiden name of Edna Woodruff. Mrs. McAvoy is only 17 years of age. The grounds for the divorce were cruelty and non-support.

PARAGRAPHS WORTH READING

"Tiger" Casts a Stone.
George Clemenceau's vigorous statement a few weeks ago that he has the desire or intention to return to the office of politics seems to have been discounted by his address Sunday at the unveiling of a statue erected in his honor. His clever, almost genius-like, linking of the German enemy with "self-seeking men" among his own countrymen who are driving France to destruction, is warning that the veteran has lost none of the resources that made him a dynamic force that could not be confined within the frontiers of his own country.—

Workers in New York.

When the census man tells us that 2,551,537 New Yorkers work every day it is easy to understand the huge figure of subway, elevated and surface railroad traffic. — [New York Herald.]

Domestic Service.

Those who have joined the migration from household service to factory or office work maintain that in the world of business there is comparative freedom for the employee and that something of a social stigma attaches to domestic employment. But in a household where the mistress considers the laborer good, clean and of social latitude allowed the maid. Nor is it clear that it is degrading for any woman to do the work which many a devoted home-maker does without expecting pay for it.—[Public Ledger.]

Women's Headquarters.

The "Old Capitol," recently purchased by a New York woman for headquarters of the National Woman's party, is conveniently situated for its purpose, forming, with the Congressional library, one side of a square otherwise enclosed by the national capitol, the senate office building, and the house office building. There is no more convenient location in Washington for one or more ladies to start out "not to lobby, but to promote friendly and avert untidily legislation." — [New York Herald.]

Co-Educational Schools.

Dr. Dublin believes there should be more co-educational schools where the curricula will stimulate the imagination of young women toward the home, and maternity and home-making will be recognized as an attractive proposition. Unquestionably the co-educational schools are much better in this regard than are the women's colleges, quite regardless of curricula, because the girls who attend them are instilled education toward a permanent view of life and toward thought of home-making by being thrown into association with members of the opposite sex, whose thought also are more or less turned in the same direction.—[Detroit Free Press.]

Divorce With Variations.

The latest marital break in high society offers a new and improved variation from the customary. The wife is in love with synthetic psychology, not with another man. — [Syn-cuse Post-Standard.]

The Nation to Pray.

Reverence is a part of American patriotism, and it is fitting and proper that the President of the United States should call upon the nation, by formal decree, to pause for a moment on Armistice day and offer a silent prayer to the throne of Grace, a prayer of thankfulness for the courageous men of the past, a prayer of appreciation for God's continued blessings upon us as a people.
We pray all too little, though the assurance is given that "the prayer of the righteous availeth much." — [Elmira Star-Gazette.]

The Railroad Consolidation.

Many thousands of industrial plants in all parts of the country owe their very existence to some advantage of rates or geographical situation which renders competition well nigh impossible.
If such obstacles and others which are bound to crop up at the hearings should diminish the chance for voluntary mergers, a further enabling act giving the Interstate Commerce commission enforcement powers over such matters. This is the plan followed in England, where all railroads are to be merged into four great groups, voluntary, if possible, but with a provision that after three years an amalgamation tribunal will be set up to complete the work of consolidation.

PROTEST ELECTRIC SERVICE.

Residents of Otsego Complain of Current Furnished by Power Company.
Albany, Oct. 7.—About 30 residents of Otsego have made complaint to the Public Service Commission over the electric service rendered by the Delaware & Otsego Light & Power company of Franklin. It is claimed that the service is such that it is impossible to use it for power purposes and it is practically useless for lighting. If better service can not be had, the complainants ask that residents of Otsego be relieved from agreements entered into with the Franklin company and that any existing obligations be cancelled.
The complaint is especially against the service of the past three months.

Will Elect Directors.

At the coming general election each town of the county will elect one school director to serve for four years from January 1, 1922. These directors succeeded those elected in 1915, the terms of the present incumbents having been extended by the school law to bring the election this fall as there were no town election last year. The school directors elect the six superintendents of the supervisory districts of the county.

THE WORM TURNS AT LAST

Giant Rooters Yesterday Had Ample Cause for Rejoicing—Sorrow of Proceeding Days Forgotten as Rum Tide Up.

It was a vastly more cheerful crowd that watched The Star bulletin yesterday afternoon as the Giants reversed the dope and chased the Yankees over Coogan's Bluff. Their idols were winning and winning handsomely. It was again a Giant crowd. Silence was supreme in the third inning when the Yankees scored the first runs of the game, but the welkin rang when the McGrawians opened up in their half of the inning and tied the score. The supreme moment of triumph for the Giant fans came in the 7th when again a Giant crowd, announced from The Star office window that a National leaguer had crossed the plate.

Interest in the series appears to be increasing in the city for the crowd in front of the bulletin yesterday afternoon was largest thus far. Automobiles and chairs lined the far curb and streets were filled with excited fans, who between announcements, earnestly discussed the salient features of the contest.

THE SWEETEST DAY OF 1921.

Candy Day to Be Observed by Oneonta Residents of Sweets Today.

The sweetest day of 1921 is today, Oct. 8, Candy day. It will be observed by all who are active today and thoughtless indeed will be the father who neglects to provide some of the good things offered in these columns for the gratification of the sweet-tooths of the mothers and children.

Candy was once looked upon as a luxury. Now it is valued for its known qualities as a good food. Men who lead active lives are coming to know the nourishing and substantial power of candy as a regular article of diet.

The United States Marines, for example, use chocolate as part of their emergency rations. The Arctic explorers have been known to carry with them large quantities of gum drops and other forms of candy.

In England, candy is called a "sweet." In Australia it is called a "lolly." But no matter by what name it is called, its popularity among men, women and children is universal.

Candy is always an appropriate gift. It is acceptable where more costly and elaborate things are considered in bad taste.

Buy a box of candy on Candy Day. Candy is the gift the whole world loves.

AGE OF THOUGHTLESSNESS

People Too Busy With Trifling Things to Think Seriously, Says Bishop Berry, in Final Discourse of Interesting and Profitable Series.

Thoughtlessness is the dominant characteristic of people today, said Bishop Berry, opening his sermon at the First Methodist church last evening. We are rushing along with such speed and have twice as many things to do as we can do and do them well, with the result that we have no opportunity to think a single course of action out to a safe and sane conclusion. We jump into this and that impulsively with little thought, hoping that it will end well. The result is that men embark in enterprises that they know little about and enter upon a course of action with little consideration of the outcome, with the result that we have over and over again, "Oh! If I had only known!" True as this comment is of our business life, it is equally true of our social life. We rush from one amusement to another, waiting our appetites on, until some new method of spending time appears, with the result that we plunge into all sorts of extravaganzas with little contemplation of the effect upon our morals or character.

Equally true is this of our religious and spiritual life, we are so preoccupied that we give little or no thought to the significance of time and of destiny. Referring to a picture seen by him not long since, Bishop Berry said it portrayed men as they are today. It represented a man with rake in hand pulling to his feet straw and stubble, while overhead an angel's crown in hand was bending over and saying: "Reach up and take thy crown." From the mouth of the man gathering the refuse, comes the answer: "I haven't time." The world is full of men and women, declared the bishop, who are absorbed with more trifles, raking mere stubble, and will not think about the best things.

It is axiomatic that in order to be impressed with the truth one must give it serious consideration. The bible is dull, yes, in fact, a sealed book to those without spiritual discernment. To those who will think of these things it is, however, the book of books. We must think earnestly and zealously if we are to be impressed with the truth.

Where will you spend eternity? Is the most important question for every man, woman and child. If any individual will give it serious thought with a heart inclined toward the truth, there can be and will be but one answer. He can reach but one conclusion—that that is his future, God entirely in his own hands. God cannot and will not change his decree that each must solve the problem for himself. Human will is supreme. His spirit will strive and his providences may warn, but the choice rests with each soul.

Thoughtlessness is followed with indecision, which is one serious obstacle to progress in anything. Unless we give serious, deliberate thought, coupled with a will to decide, we will never come to a decision.

Later in his discourse the speaker declared that the people who are doing things are the people who believe that things can be done. The safeguard against pessimism, the optimism, with lightning spirit, are on the wing line. How true, said he, is this of the Christian church. If our forces were at the front engaging constantly in the thickest of the fight, there would be no delay in the victory. We have many things to do, are merely trailing, they, from the very nature of things, can be nothing more than calamity howlers. The world is going to the dogs at a rapid pace, is their unanimous verdict. Not so with those who think and thinking, see, and seeing, fight. We are winning is their verdict, and it is true.

In closing Bishop Berry delivered a most eloquent peroration, in which he pictured the army of Christ, its numbers, its equipment and finally the matchless powers of its leader, the King of Kings, whose teachings and whose kingdom will yet cover the earth.

The text for this last and most inspiring sermon of Bishop Berry was: "Finally brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are of good report, think on these things."

During the service Rev. A. D. Rince of Hartwick sang a solo and a double male quartet from Hartwick rendered a selection, both of which were greatly enjoyed.

Bishop Berry leaves this morning for Scranton, Pa., to resume his regular duties. His sermons have done much to quicken the activity and revitalize the faith of the church membership and the influence of his visit will never cease to exert a force upon the local church. He, himself, is a living example of the underlying truth of his discourse of last evening, i. e., that the glories of the spiritual realm unfold themselves to an amazing extent to those who are spiritually minded and who think on these things.

Going Chestnutting.

An old Oneonta man thought back to his kid days and began to go chestnutting again. He got out the gas buggy, drove over on South hill, where a farmer kindly told him to go to it. "Once a man and twice a child," is sure a true saying, for the old man was a kid again. It was great and before starting for home the farmer visited with him and said—"that Building and Loan association in Oneonta is sure a bully thing. With its help I'm paying for this farm on easy terms and so that rent money pays for it, with privilege of paying larger amounts at any time and thus stopping interest. I'm doing this and it will soon reduce my monthly payments to $15, with my farm all paid for and I'll get $3,000.00 in cash from my shares, which I shall keep. The kids are also saving 35 cents each day, safely placing with it monthly and will thus have $2,000.00 each, with which to go to college, start in business or get a home or farm." The old man didn't have that chance when he was young. adv. 11

Peaches, plums, grapefruit, apples, grapes, celery, peppers, squash, cabbage, carrots, beets, sweet potatoes. Greening apples, 75c per peck; $2.75 per bushel. Finigan's grocery, Phone 625. adv. 11

Notice.

We have a few more ripe and green tomatoes; also ripe cucumbers. Todd's Cash market. Phone 19. adv. 11

LOYAL ORDER OF MOOSE

OFFICIALLY VISITED BY SUPREME DICTATOR JAMES F. GRIFFIN.

Open Meeting at Municipal Hall Last Evening Supreme Event in History of Local Lodge—Mooseheart, Famous Home of Order, Described by Speakers—Plan to Double Membership Outlined.

Probably the greatest event in the history of Oneonta lodge, No. 358, Loyal Order of Moose, was the official visit to the lodge last evening of Supreme Dictator James F. Griffin of Boston, head of the Moose order in the United States and Canada. Mr. Griffin, who was elected by acclamation at the last convention of the order, held at Toledo, Ohio, is making an official tour of the lodges in New York state, the first time that any supreme dictator has visited the Empire state directly after election.

The official visitation last evening took the form of an open meeting at Municipal hall, which was held at 8 o'clock. Mr. Harrington of Mooseheart, Illinois, spoke eloquently of the marvelous work being done at Mooseheart for the widows and orphans of deceased members and described the plan by which it is hoped to double the membership of the order, thus enabling it to establish homes in other parts of the country.

Mr. Griffin brought out that Mooseheart is an estate of 1023 acres of land, 35 miles west of Chicago, and is a home and vocational training school for dependent children of deceased members of the order. Since its foundation, many young men and women have been trained and are now graduates of the school, into colleges and universities and they always give good accounts of themselves both in school and after graduation.

The school provides thorough religious training but does not try to influence the beliefs of the children. This education is increasing daily, there is no strict disciplinary system. Rather Mooseheart is conducted as a real home and the boys and girls are given home training and guidance. Mooseheart has long had the reputation of having no superior among fraternal homes of its kind and its scope of influence is increasing daily. Mr. Griffin is a man of ability and distinction, having worked his way up from a newsboy to a position of national importance as a member of the Massachusetts general assembly and as head of the Order of Moose, and his remarks were closely followed and generously applauded by the large assembly of members and friends of the order.

The prime object of the visit of the supreme dictator at this time is to further the cause of the local membership drive. A drive is being made all over the country at this time to secure candidates for the James J. Davis chapter named in honor of the secretary of labor, who is also director general of the Moose order. It is planned to initiate the candidates on Thanksgiving day. FORMER ONEONTA RESIDENT

Mrs. Leonora A. Dietz Dies September 29 at Home of Daughter in Omaha.

Friends in Oneonta have this week received notice of the death of Mrs. Leonora A. Dietz, which occurred on Thursday, September 29, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Leonora Nelson, in that city. She was one of the oldest living natives of Oneonta, having been born in this city 37 years ago. She was married in 1850 to Gould Price Dietz, a descendant of one of the early families of the city, and from which Dietz street was named. A few years later Mr. Dietz with his family moved to the west, and for years he was a leading lumber dealer in Omaha, where he accumulated a very large fortune. Mr. Dietz died in 1902, two years after the golden wedding had been celebrated, and ever since she had resided with the daughter above named. She was a woman of noble character, of fine attainments and withal one who even in her latest years kept in touch with the life of the new generation.

Evidence of this is the fact that only two years ago, being then in her 85th year, she conveyed a flight in an airplane with her son, C. M. Dietz. When she and her husband first went west it was in a prairie schooner. Three presidents of the United States called upon her—Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson, the latter during his last visit to Omaha, just prior to the war, when the President's car was stopped and he went upon the porch briefly to chat with Mrs. Dietz. The death of Mrs. Dietz was of unexpected death, in only a few days, and practically her last words were of Oneonta and of the "girls she used to know in the summer time of the long ago," all of whom with herself are commemorated in a poem by Mrs. E. M. H. Gates, printed in these columns about two years since. Of this charming bevy of girls of whom Mrs. Dietz wrote, and who made the life of the town in the fifties, there now remain but two, Mrs. Caroline W. Strong and Mrs. Emogene Yager, both residents of Oneonta.

Besides the son and daughter above named other surviving children of Mrs. Dietz are Frank C. and Gould Dietz of Omaha and Mrs. E. M. Stickney of Minneapolis, Minn. She leaves also ten grandchildren and ten great grandchildren. She was a daughter of Samuel J. Cooke, a prominent attorney of Oneonta in the middle years of the nineteenth century, and the family home was located on Chestnut street, where the present building of Loan association building, next to the Windsor hotel, now is.

MAYOR AND JUDGE IN BUFFALO.

Call Upon Harry G. Rockwell, Former Superintendent of Schools Here.

Mayor Andrew E. Ceperley and Mrs. Ceperley and Judge Frank C. Huntington have been visitors this week in Buffalo, where they were called on business. Judge Huntington returned home on Thursday, but Mayor and Mrs. Ceperley stayed over an additional day to visit friends, returning to Oneonta last evening.

One of the pleasant incidents of their visit was a call upon Principal Harry G. Rockwell of the Buffalo State Normal school. Mr. Rockwell was formerly superintendent of schools in this city and he requested that they extend his best wishes to many friends here. The Buffalo Normal school is possessed of wonderful equipment and has a large enrollment.

Attorney George M. LePine of Binghamton well known in Oneonta, has purchased of the H. Y. Canfield estate Cam do Philo, the handsome summer home created by Mr. Canfield on the bluff overlooking that pretty village, and will after making some enlargements and betterments open the property as a summer hotel, catering to high class patronage. Possession was given Oct. 1. Mr. LePine will remove to Unadilla at an early date and will commence alterations soon, planning to have the hotel ready to open in the spring of 1922.

The property includes the residence, the tenant house and outbuildings and some 45 acres of land. The consideration is not announced.

Mr. LePine, who is a brother of Miss Lena LePine of this city, will retain his law office in Binghamton, spending his week-ends and such a part of the summer as his practice will permit in Unadilla. Mrs. LePine who was formerly Miss Southworth of Trout Creek, has had experience in the management of summer boarding houses, catering to an exclusive patronage and she will no doubt be a factor in the development of the project. Their many friends in Oneonta will wish them abundant success in the undertaking, which has many features which augur well for its success.

COMMUNITY OPEN HOUSE

Many Visit New Community Center—Company G Band Gives Concert—Visitors Welcome Today.

Many citizens of the city and vicinity responded to the invitation of the Oneonta Community association and visited the new Community house at the time of its formal opening yesterday. A committee of ladies were kept busy showing the visitors through the house throughout the day and evening. Company G band was on hand in the evening, giving a concert.

Almost without exception the visitors expressed delight in finding the house so admirably and attractively equipped and furnished. To many who had not fully realized the purpose of the Community house what they saw was apparently a revelation.

All visited the Boy Scout headquarters which is in the building in the rear of the Community house. Here some of the boys in uniform invited them to inspect their attractive meeting place.

Not a few of those who inspected the Community house were from out of the city and they had nothing but praise for the arrangement of the buildings and the progress in community betterment Oneonta is prepared to make, now that the long felt want has been filled.

The open house will be continued throughout today and this evening. Doubtless many who were unable to respond to the Community association's invitation yesterday will avail themselves of the opportunity today.

Missionary Tea Well Attended.

There was an unusually good attendance at the semi-annual tea held for the benefit of missions in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church last evening. An excellent supper was served and the collection netted the Woman's Missionary society about $165.

Supper at Portlandville.

The regular monthly supper of the Ladies Aid society of the Portlandville church will be served in the church parlors next Tuesday evening, instead of Wednesday, the regular day.

First Day of Fire Prevention Campaign in City.

Tomorrow the anniversary of that memorable day when William O'Leary's cow kicked over the lamp and started a fire which destroyed practically every building in Chicago, is International Fire Prevention day, by presidential and royal proclamation. In most cities the fire prevention campaign will end tomorrow, but in Oneonta, because of the impossibility of collecting the necessary data sooner, Sunday will be the opening day of a week of intensive work designed to bring home to every citizen a realization of the appalling yearly fire losses, both in lives and property, and the necessity of individual co-operation if these losses are to be checked.

A joint committee representing the city and the Chamber of Commerce, under the leadership of Mayor Cepney and Thurston A. Cronan, has been at work for some time collecting data and formulating a plan of action, and announces that all is in readiness for the most elaborate observance of Fire Prevention week that the city has yet had. The campaign starts today with the distribution by the Boy Scouts of posters and other literature. The churches, schools and theatres have been asked to co-operate and an effort is being made to have local merchants feature fire prevention material in their window displays. There is a large amount of material relative to such displays available at the Chamber of Commerce rooms and merchants desiring suggestions are asked to call there.

An elaborate program for each day of next week has been worked out, details of which will appear in Monday's Star.

IN THE CITY COURT.

Two Women Arraigned on Minor Charges—One Case Held Over.

Mrs. Antonio Strucel of 14 Baker street was arraigned in the city court yesterday morning and found guilty of stealing coal from the railroad. Sentence was suspended during good behavior. Mrs. Strucel was arrested on railroad property by Detective James Stapleton of the D. & H. police.

The case against Mrs. Emma Hyler of 24 Miller street, who was arrested yesterday morning on the charge of vagrancy, was adjourned for trial this morning, when Mrs. Hyler asked for an attorney upon being arraigned before Judge Huntington yesterday afternoon.

THE WEEK AT WEST END

Men Serve Hosts: The Supper at Elm Park Church—Indecent Exposure—Enjoyable Birthday Party.

A delicious roast pig supper prepared and served by the men themselves was the feature of the regular meeting of the Men's Brotherhood held at the Elm Park Methodist church Wednesday evening. About 250 members and their wives were present at the supper. The usual order was reversed this time as the ladies were the guests while the men served the supper. The meal was a bounteous one, roast pig and all the trimmings being served and the men were complimented on their fine work, they being responsible for the entire work of putting on the meal.

Following the supper, Rev. Jesse L. Wilson and Mrs. Roberts of Harpursville gave interesting talks, a social hour was enjoyed, and the happy gathering broke up for home all declaring they had spent an ideal evening.

Undergoes Serious Operation.

Charles Rappleyea of Pottsville, Pa., underwent a serious operation at the home of Robert Thayer the Plains, Thursday morning. The operation, which was for the removal of a cataract in the left eye, was performed by Dr. Morton C. Brownell assisted by Dr. A. H. Brownell. Considering the seriousness of the case Mr. Rappleyea withstood the operation well and his condition is considered very encouraging.

Mrs. and Mrs. Rappleyea were brought to Oneonta Wednesday by their son, Tunnis Rappleyea of Lexington, and are guests at the home of their nephew, Robert Thayer.

Enjoyable Birthday Party.

Mrs. W. U. Woodworth of 243 Chestnut street gave a birthday party Tuesday afternoon in honor of her little son, Donald, who was four years old on that day. Several of Donald's boy friends were invited in for the occasion, and an afternoon of right good fun was spent. Mrs. Woodworth had the house prettily decorated in Halloween style, and it presented an appearance that delighted the children. During the afternoon, appropriate games were played, and when early evening rolled around, all were ready for the dinner table. Mrs. Woodworth served a delicious course dinner which the little folks relished with evident pleasure. Accorns in different designs were the table favors, and another noticeable feature was the birthday cake with candles.

The boys departed for home after dinner leaving Donald many reminders of the happy occasion.

Finds It Hard to Keep a Horse.

Readers of the West End column will recall that A. H. Tilton of the Plains recently lost by death his fine road horse. To take the place of the faithful animal, Mr. Tilton sent to his farm at Morris and brought home with him a four-year-old dark bay horse. The horse had been at his new home only a few days when he slipped his halter unnoticed and made a clean getaway. After

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights. Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel, there's no sickness or pain after taking them. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating. No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face. Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, you will know them by their olive color. Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c.

What Man Learns.

Another thing the thoughtful man learns after a while as he blunders along through this old vale of tears and laughter, trying to do the best he can under all the circumstances, is to distinguish rather carefully between the reformers who really mean it and the ones who are doing it to make their jobs last.—Ohio State Journal.
